By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 14 astronauts watched today as their Saturn 5 rocket made its first move toward the moon — a ponderous 3½-mile journey from the assembly building to the launch pad.

Alan B. Shepard Jr., Stuart A. Roosa and Edgar D. Mitchell were at a viewing site a few hundred feet away as the rocket moved out of its hangar at 6:30 a.m., standing upright on the broad back of a tank-like transporter.

The transporter travels at maximum speed of one mile an hour and the trip to the launch pad was to take several hours.

Shepard, Roosa and Mitchell are to blast off for the moon Jan. 31, reaching a speed of nearly 25,000 miles an hour.

Shepard, America's first spaceman back in 1961, and Mitchell are to attempt to land in the moon's rugged Fra Mauro highlands to search for pristine lunar soil that might provide clues to the origin of the moon.

Fra Mauro had been the intended target for Apollo 13 before an oxygen tank explosion 205,000 miles from home cancelled man's third moon-landing attempt last April.

The three astronauts, James A. Lovell Jr., Fred W. Haise Jr. and John L. Swigert Jr., fought for survival in four danger-filled days before they returned safely to earth.

As a result of the explosion, the Apollo 14 launching has been delayed nearly four months while design changes have been made in the spaceship.

The new system in the service module includes three oxygen tanks instead of two, removal of most electrical wiring and all combustible materials from inside the tanks, elimination of stirring fans and thermal switches, electrical wires sheathed in stainless steel and a better warning system to alert the astronauts and ground controllers in case of trouble.

Court Refuses to Review Yippee Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court declined today to review the conviction of Yippee leader Abbie Hoffman for resisting arrest in Chicago in 1968.

Police moved against Hoffman after being told by an unidentified woman that Hoffman had what the Illinois Supreme Court later called a "vulgarity" written across his forehead in red.

that the charge was amended and that the amendment was called to the jury's attention by the judge.

The judge told the jury while giving instructions that the charge had been amended to allege that the killing occurred during a robbery attempt.

The Supreme Court majority said that except for the judge's statement, the court record contained no evidence of an amendment and the high court said the statement did not constitute an amendment of the charge.

Chief Justice Carleton Harris, in a dissenting opinion, termed the majority opinion's basis for reversal "rather flimsy."

Harris said that Murray was represented by competent legal counsel who would have objected if the judge's statement had been in conflict with what was understood to be specified in the charge.

"... I would be inclined to view the statement shown in the (trial) transcript was a sufficient notation of record," Harris wrote.

Associate Justices John A. Fogleman and J. Fred Jones joined in the dissent.

In other cases, the Supreme Court:

—Reversed a ruling by Chancellor James Chesnut of Hot Springs that Dr. Grady Roper could not have his name listed on the general election ballot for coroner of Garland County. The ruling by special Associate Justice James V. Sharp said that Chancery Court had no jurisdiction in the case. Roper, Republican, was defeated in his bid for election to office last Tuesday. This was the high court's formal ruling in the case, having issued a brief order earlier.

—Upheld the conviction of Bud Easley of near Hiwassee (Benton County) on a charge of unlawful possession of drugs. The high court rejected Easley's contention that the evidence against him should have been suppressed because the search warrant did not state specifically enough the buildings to be searched and because Easley was not shown the warrant.

Republicans.

And with attention now turning to the 1972 presidential contest, more jobs and a slowdown in price jumps become a GOP political must.

Whatever decisions the administration makes must be submitted to a Congress that not only remains firmly under Democratic control, but maintains in key positions most of the same men who confronted the Republican White House during the past two years.

The specter of big deficits plagues administration planners at every turn as they tackle more specific problems of the coming year, including:

—The draft, which expires June 30. Nixon is committed in principle to moving toward an all-volunteer army, which would be costly in pay and other incentives.

—Reform of the welfare system, unless Congress in the upcoming lame duck session succeeds in reconciling sharply differing versions. Main objection to the administration plan has been its cost. Meanwhile welfare rolls continue to soar above predictions.

—Possible extension of Federal aid to college students. Again, cost is the big headache.

—Continuation or revamping of the antipoverty program.

—Mounting sentiment for a national health insurance program, with heavy government financial participation.

On the other hand, Democratic gains in the election could improve the chances, still slim, of one Republican proposal—sharing federal revenues with the states.

Democrats will have more governors—as many as 11 more and control more state legisladeputy director of the Food and Drug Administration's bureau of medicine.

The report proposed the federal government establish a national board to work with doctors in setting medical care standards.

"Every citizen is at the mercy of a system devoid of uniform, enforced standards of quality and must run the risks implied in the statistics of uneven levels of care among hospitals and physicians," said the report.

Among the statistics cited:

—A Columbia University study of hospital admissions that showed 57 per cent of the patients received good or optimal care. The rest got care rated fair or poor.

—A report by the National Commission on Health Manpower that examinations passed by 98 per cent of U.S. medical school graduates were successfully completed by only 40 per cent of students from foreign schools. Yet, the United States is so desperate for doctors that the foreign graduates "leak" into the American medical system anyway, the commission said.

—A Kansas survey which reported that, despite ample post-licensing educational programs offered to doctors in the state over a 10-year period, 48 per cent of the doctors did not take advantage of the courses.

The report proposed that doctors be subjected to relicensing tests, and that they be certified to practice only in a specific field.

In replying to the report, the American Medical Association said: "We are working almost continually with the Congress and the executive branch of the federal government to promote quality and cost controls."

Has Praise for Cummins Prison Farm

MAGNOLIA--"If Cummins Prison Farm is the worst prison in the world, then the best one must be a mansion," says Linda Harris, junior sociology major of Ozan.

Miss Harris spent the past summer at Cummins working as a corrections officer.

"After living on the farm with the prisoners, I think I know conditions there are not as bad as they have been reported. "For instance, the idea that prisoners live such a terrible life just isn't true."

Under a specially directed study program at SSC, Miss Harris now works as a parole officer. She is assistant to a district parole officer of El Dorado.

Cummins provides prisoners with recreational and entertainment facilities, Miss Harris says.

"In contrast to opinions I had formed from previous newspaper articles, I was pleasantly shocked when, shortly after I arrived, women in the reformatory had a big barbecue. The prison band even came over and played for them."

Cummins also provides movies, basketball and softball for men, plus a band which plays for prisoners once or twice each week.

While at Cummins, Miss Harris worked in the prison's mail room, records office and transported inmates from the women's reformatory. "Although I got a greater insight into prisoners' lives while censoring the mail, I liked that job least."

Miss Harris got the job by applying through David Jordan, then lieutenant commissioner to the State Department of Corrections. "Since I plan to work in the field of corrections when I graduate, I thought prison work would be good experience. I applied through Jordan, was interviewed and hired."

While at Cummins, Miss Harris met 38 female inmates ranging from ages 19 to 49. "The women work in the sewing room where they make men's clothes or just generally clean up."

The penitentiary's farm is almost self sufficient. It produces all of its vegetables and much of its meat. "Male inmates work in the fields or in meat and vegetable processing plants."

Living on the farm with a family who worked there, Miss Harris was able to have personal contacts with prisoners. "Among the men, I found these serving longer terms accepted their situation better. They seemed to adjust to prison life easier."

"I don't think I could have had a more beneficial experience in the corrections field than working at Cummins. "I feel the worst conditions at the prison could be corrected with sufficient financial funds." Not yet a mansion, "Cummins has a capable administration, but the administrators need more money," she adds.

A SANE LOOK AT WOMEN'S LIBERATION

Dear Helen:

You have at various times, in answers to readers' letters about the women's liberation movement, agreed that women should be paid equally for equal work, that they should be equal partners in the marriage, that (state and federal) laws do discriminate against women, that women should be given the same educational opportunities as men and that advancement on the job should be on the same basis as men.

Yet you apparently don't endorse the movement as a whole because of what your readers refer to as the man-hating and bra-burning members.

Where, Helen, are these feminists who burn bras and hate men? After reading articles, books, news stories; attending women's liberation meetings and picketing sessions (for equality of employment) I have yet to see one.

In 1968 at the Miss America pageant, a group of women burned bras in a SYMBOLIC protest of the way the traditional pageant holds women up as objects to be judged as prime commodity beef, with no real thoughts on anything controversial. Those young women are USED to sell products—that's what this archaic contest is for. The bra-burning act was criticized by members of the movement as an attention-getting gimmick, which served its purpose and wouldn't be necessary again. Also, only a minute fraction of the women in the struggle have talked of hating men (though they've received a double portion of publicity).

Men and women should share equally the responsibilities of society. Let's end these stereotypes and all be people! — WITH YOU IN THE STRUGGLE Dear WYITS:

I endorse the movement as you state it — all the way! And I'm especially glad you point out that women, (possibly more than men) must be persuaded to accept their liberation.

Thus, those phrases are crutches which are easy to use if you haven't taken the time to understand what possibly is for some an idea too far-reaching to be considered seriously.

The idea of women's liberation is that women should be considered first of all as people capable of controlling their own lives, according to their own personal qualifications. Women are people first and then wives, mothers and whatever, second.

Why do women need liberating? Because they have swallowed the idea they have to live up to the advertisements of the "perfect little housewife." And because they have been told by mothers and grandmothers that women are meant to suffer in silence, gaining fulfillment only in serving their children and the man they love. Women have also fallen for the idea that they must act cute, inferior, "ladylike," submissive, passive and unintelligent to "get a man and keep him happy."

Women's liberation is also for men. They should not be burdened with the restricted role of always being the strong, never-failing protector and provider. No one can live up to that and remain sane for long.

Men and women should share equally the responsibilities of society. Let's end these stereotypes and all be people! — WITH YOU IN THE STRUGGLE Dear WYITS:

I endorse the movement as you state it — all the way! And I'm especially glad you point out that women, (possibly more than men) must be persuaded to accept their liberation.

Field Goals Take Over in Pro Football

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tom Dempsey had an angel on his shoulder and some magic in his foot.

"We got beaten by a miracle, what else can you say?" was all Detroit Coach Joe Schmidt could say after Dempsey's record 63-yard field goal gave New Orleans a 19-17 National Football League upset Sunday.

The kick on the last play of the game appeared to be heaven-sent for the underdog Saints, who supposedly hadn't a prayer of winning.

The Saints' bull-strong booter had some faith he could make the distance, which bettered the 1956 mark of 56 yards by Baltimore's Bert Rechichar.

"I knew I could kick the ball that far, but whether or not I could kick it straight, kept running through my mind," Dempsey said. "I knew I had to hit the ball awfully hard and would need a little extra time. But the Lions held up perfectly and I got a perfect snap (from Joe Scarpati)."

The field goal had a field day in other NFL games Sunday. Cincinnati's Horst Muhlmann kicked five three-pointers as the Bengals bested Buffalo 43-14; George Blanda's 52-yarder helped Oakland trim Cleveland 23-20; Fred Cox sailed four field goals in Minnesota's 19-10 success over Washington; Mike Mercer's 38-yard boot was the difference in San Diego's 24-21 victory over Denver and Pete Gogolak ripped three as the New York Giants upset Dallas 23-20.

Atlanta and Los Angeles played to a 10-10 tie; Philadelphia won its first game since Nov. 23, 1969 by beating Miami 24-17; San Francisco routed Chicago 37-16; Kansas City slugged Houston 24-9; St. Louis walloped Boston 31-0 and Pittsburgh topped the New York Jets 21-17 in the other games. Green Bay and Baltimore clash in the Monday night television (ABC) game in Milwaukee's County Stadium.

Dempsey's booming drive cleared the cross-bar by mere inches, and he admitted it took some special ingredients.

"There's so much involved in kicking a 60-yard field goal," he said. "You've got to try and hit the ball as hard as you possibly can and yet, kicking it straight is a hard thing to do."

"It just happened that I hit it right that time and it happened at the right time."

Detroit appeared to have won it when Errol Mann kicked an 18-yard field goal with 11 seconds to give the Lions a one-point lead.

But New Orleans' quarterback Billy Kilmer completed a pass to Al Dodd after the Detroit kickoff and Dodd went out of bounds at the Saints' 45 with two seconds left.

Then Dempsey, born toeless on his right kicking foot, did his thing.

Muhlmann drilled field goals of 22, 30, 13, 36 and 43 yards for Cincinnati, and whizzed a six-yard slide. Buffalo's O.J. Simpson suffered a severe bruise on his left leg.

Blanda, Oakland's 43-year-old kicking wizard, came through with his game-winner with three seconds left. He earlier relieved Daryle Lamonica at quarterback in the final period and threw a 14-yard touchdown pass and kicked the extra point. Cox made good on attempts of 44, 17, 24 and 42 yards and Dave Osborn spun over from the one as Minnesota stopped Washington.

John Hadl fired three touchdown passes, two to Gary Garrison, and Mercer added the finishing touch for San Diego with his field goal.

Gogolak kicked the New York Giants into contention with his talented toe, then Ron Johnson sparked in a second-half comeback with two touchdowns. The Giants held off a determined Dallas scoring bid in the closing moments.

Roman Gabriel threw a four-yard scoring strike and David Ray kicked the extra point that pulled Los Angeles into a tie with underdog Atlanta.

Philadelphia had to stave off a fourth-quarter rally by battling Miami. Norm Snead had built a substantial Eagle lead on three TD tosses.

John Brodie completed 21 passes for San Francisco and moved into an elite class of quarterbacks with 2,000 or more lifetime completions. John Unitas, Y.A. Tittle and Sonny Jurgensen are the others.

Royal Has No Alibis About Game

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
Associated Press Writer

What a difference a year makes.

Last season about this time, Baylor head coach Bill Beall was at one of the low ebbs of his first season at Baylor following a 56-14 loss to Texas.

"I think all of us made a promise that wouldn't happen again if hard work had anything to do with it," Beall said Saturday.

Beall and his Fighting Bears lost again this year but that fact has almost been lost in the uproar surrounding the elusiveness of Texas' 21-24 victory.

In battling the No. 1 ranked Longhorns to the narrow victory margin, the Bears, who have won but two games in two seasons, may have knocked the Longhorns out of their top national ranking.

"You know, Jess Neely (former Rice coach) once said there was no such thing as a super team," Beall said. "That doesn't take anything away from Texas. They're good."

Longhorn head coach Darrell Royal offered no alibis.

"If I have any praise, it goes to the Baylor football team," Royal said. "They were playing an odd defense. They were meeting and defeating our blockers. We just didn't block well at all. We have no alibis. Baylor just played good, hardnosed football."

Beall said the Bears felt they could stop the Horns awesome option play. "If there is a better sophomore defensive end than Roger Goree or a better linebacker than Davis Jones, I want to find him," Beall said.

So suddenly, the word "fighting" is back in the Baylor nickname and Texas Tech must be wondering what kind of atmosphere it'll face in its SWC battle at Waco with the Bears Saturday.

Tech is the only SWC team left in the SWC chase with Texas and Arkansas, having eliminated Texas Christian 22-14 in Lubbock Saturday. The Raiders are 4-1 in the campaign and can't afford another loss.

In other matchups this weekend, Southern Methodist is at seventh-ranked Arkansas; Rice is at Texas A&M and Texas is at Texas Christian.

Arkansas recovered from a halftime deficit to defeat Rice 38-14 and SMU defeated Texas A&M on two field goals by chipper Johnson in other SWC action last Saturday.

Tech's Doug McCutchen churned out 20 yards rushing against TCU and Tech quarterback Charles Napper passed for two touchdowns and Dickie Ingram booted three field goals to pace the Raider offensive effort.

Tech defensive end Bruce Dowdy stopped TCU quarterback Steve Judy cold on a first down try at the Tech six late in the game to kill a Frog scoring attempt.

Arkansas quarterback Bill Montgomery pushed the Razorbacks to five consecutive scoring drives in the second half to finally put away the troublesome Owls. Tailback Mike Saint helped get the Hog ground game going.

Cox made good on attempts of 44, 17, 24 and 42 yards and Dave Osborn spun over from the one as Minnesota stopped Washington.

John Hadl fired three touchdown passes, two to Gary Garrison, and Mercer added the finishing touch for San Diego with his field goal.

Porks Smash Rice in the Second Half

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks were Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde Saturday against Rice.

In the first half the seventh-ranked Razorbacks lost two fumbles and had two passes intercepted by the upstart Owls.

In the second half, Arkansas scored on five straight possessions and blitzed Rice 38-14.

The second half determination was obvious.

The Razorbacks came out of the offensive huddle, raced to the line of scrimmage and got set like they meant business.

Coach Frank Broyles said the Razorbacks ran their plays eight seconds faster in the second half than in the first half.

"We had six turnovers, four in the first half, and that can be demoralizing," Broyles said. "The thing I was proud of was that we were still able to win the game. This game meant a lot to us."

Rice scored twice in 60 seconds and took a 14-3 lead at the half.

Appropriately, it was Mike Saint who put the Razorbacks ahead to stay when he dove in to the end zone from two yards out late in the third period.

"Saint turned the tide," Broyles said.

Saint, a 200-pound redshirt sophomore from Texarkana, replaced Jon Richardson at the start of the third period and carried 21 times during the last 30 minutes.

Richardson moved into the starting tailback slot when Bill Burnett suffered a shoulder separation last week against Texas A&M. Richardson lost two fumbles in the first half, once stopping an Arkansas drive at the Rice four.

"Richardson had a lot of pressure on him," Broyles said. "Like a young passer who throws an interception and is afraid to raise his arm again; a runner fumbles and the next few times he carries the ball he over emphasizes protecting it which limits his effectiveness and may even make him fumble more."

Fullback Russ Garber had his best day of the year, gaining 112 yards on 18 carries.

"Russ took up a lot of the load Saturday and he'll have to pick it up with Burnett out," Broyles said.

Although the offense scored five straight times in the second half, give the defense credit.

Three times Rice had the ball in the third quarter and three times the Owls were forced to punt into a stiff breeze — giving Arkansas excellent field position.

Rice managed only two first downs in the third quarter.

Broyles said defensive end David Reavis played his best game of the season and the other defensive end, Bruce James rated exceptionally high for the second week in a row.

Senior Girls Outgun the Junior Girls

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Using a strong running game, the Senior girls outgunned the juniors, 22-14, in a thriller at Hammons Stadium last Saturday night in the Sixth Annual Powder Puff classic.

Led by running back Sharon Bain, who gained a fantastic total of 191 yards, the seniors dominated the ground game on sweeps.

Kicking off to the juniors, the seniors held on four downs, and received a punt at their own 35 yard line.

On the first play of scrimmage, senior halfback Sharon Bain galloped 70 yards for a senior tally and after Sharon Brown turned the right end corner for two points, the senior girls led 8-0 with 3:56 remaining in the opening period.

On the next play from scrimmage Marlene Bennett intercepted a junior pass at the 44 yard line. However, the seniors could not move and with 1:55 left in the first period the juniors had possession of the ball at their own 34 yard line.

With the aid of two passes the juniors moved to the senior 35 in eight plays. On third down, Cindy Hollis took a reverse hand-off and sailed 35 yards around right end for the first junior score. The PAT failed and with 6:48 left in the half, the seniors still led, 8-6.

Three plays later, after the kickoff, Bain turned left end for a 12 yard touchdown scamper. Although the extra point attempt was no good, with 5:17 left in the half, the seniors held a 14-6 lead.

Storming back from their own 37 yard line the juniors used a 45 yard reverse run by Hollis to move to the enemy 18. Five plays later quarterback Betty Rodden plunged over from the one. Karen Davis raced around left end for the conversion points and a 14-14 tie with 2:19 left.

In the first play of the Seniors next possession, junior Nan Arnold recovered a fumble at the senior 37, but unable to move the ball, the clock ran out ending the first half.

Showing some good running from both teams in the first half was possibly going to be the same.

Receiving the second half kickoff, the seniors started from their own 49. The seniors proceeded to drive 51 yards in just three plays for the score, with Bain turning left end for the final 13 yards. Brown's two point run put the seniors ahead 22-14 with 5:02 left in the third quarter.

Top Teams Win But It Wasn't Easy

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's no such thing as a super team ... or is there?

The author of the first part of that statement is Bill Beall, whose Baylor team gave top-rated Texas all it could handle Saturday before bowing 21-14 on a pair of Steve Worster touchdowns.

But he may get an argument from Bud Carson of Georgia Tech, whose next assignment is second-ranked Notre Dame, fresh from a 46-14 pounding of Pitt.

"Let me emphasize that I think Notre Dame is the best team in the country," Carson said after Saturday's 30-8 triumph over Navy. "I've seen films of Ohio State and Texas, but I feel we'll be playing the best there is this weekend. They're in a class by themselves."

Elsewhere, the big news was Stanford's 29-22 come-from-behind victory over Washington, putting the sixth-ranked Indians in the Rose Bowl; Oregon's wild 46-35 triumph over No. 9 Air Force which dropped the Falcons from the unbeaten ranks, and the broken left arm suffered by Mississippi's brilliant Archie Manning during a 24-13 win over Houston.

Stanford's Jim Plunkett passed for 268 yards and all four touchdowns, including a decisive 15-yarder to Randy Vataha with 7½ minutes left, and set a major college career record of 7,082 passing yards.

Dan Fouts' fourth scoring pass, a 39-yarder to Bob Newland, and Ken Woody's 40-yard field goal wrapped up Oregon's victory over Air Force, which got three TDs from Brian Bream and a pair of scoring tosses from Bob Parker to Ernie Jennings.

Manning suffered his injury after passing for two touchdowns and an insurmountable lead for 13th-ranked Mississippi over No. 18 Houston. The star quarterback was taken to Baptist Hospital in Memphis, Tenn., where he was to undergo surgery today. Directly across the street in Methodist Hospital is Coach John Vaught, who was stricken with a mild heart attack last month.

Basketball Opens in Conference

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The eight Southwest Conference basketball coaches aren't sure of the exact finish, but their general consensus appears to be that one of three teams — defending champion Rice, Texas A&M or Texas Tech — will take it all in 1970-71.

Those three teams were mentioned most frequently as the eight SWC head basketball coaches met Sunday at the annual conference basketball meeting.

And at least two of the coaches, Rice's Don Knodel and A&M's Shelby Metcalf, aren't shying from the spotlight.

Knodel said his Owls are 50 per cent better right now than at the same time in last year's championship run.

"That's not true of the type team we were in the stretch (of last year's race)," Knodel said. "But if this group can improve as much as the one last year did, we'll have a fine team."

The defending champions return three starters in guards Tom Myer and Gary Reist and forward Ted Melady but the Aggies are in even better shape with four returning starters — Bill Cooksey, Pat Kavanagh, Chuck Smith and 7-foot Steve Niles.

"I'd say if our attitude stays where it is now and we can get healthy, we have a chance to have one of our better ball clubs," Metcalf said.

Metcalf said the Aggies are counting on the return of 6-foot-8 Rick Duplantis, who is recovering from a knee operation.

Texas Tech coach Bob Bass starts his second year at the Raider helm with four returning starters and junior college transfers Sam Sibert, a 6-7 225-pounder from Crane Tech of Chicago.

"We'll have some offensive changes this year," Bass said, "because our added height enables us to do a few more things like more deep post plays. Of Sibert, Bass says: "He's going to make the greatest difference in our team."

Texas Coach Leon Black typified most of the coaches' comments in picking the SWC finish.

"If you look at it realistically," Black said, "you have to go with the ones who have people back and had success with them last year. That's Rice, A&M and Tech. They have the people returning."

"I think there are others like ourselves, who hope to have something to say about the outcome of the race," Black said.

Baylor coach Bill Menefee says his No. 1 job will be to find replacements for departed starters Larry Gatewood and Tommy Bowman. He has a nucleus of three starters — William Chatmon (the No. 4 ranked percentage shooter in the nation last year), forward Tom Friedman and guard Tom Stanton—to work with.

SMU Coach Bill Pruitt will build his hopes around SWC scoring champion Gene Phillips. "Any talk about our team would have to begin with Gene Phillips," Pruitt said. "He's one of the finest players in the country." Phillips averaged 28.5 points per game last season.

TCU has the biggest influx of junior college transfers. Coach Johnny Swaim hopes to use them to plug losses of four of the top seven players from last year.

Eggy Captures Gardenia Stakes, $188,360

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Miss New Jersey participated in the ceremony at Garden State Park but the real queen was another female, at least as far as thoroughbred racing is concerned.

The other female was a 2-year-old filly named Eggy who scored an upset in the $188,360 Gardenia Stakes.

Frank Lovato rode Eggy, owned by Walter M. Jeffords Jr., to a three-quarter-length victory over Bright View Farm's Rosemont Bow, with Alisco Stable's Forward Gal third.

Eggy ran the 1 1/16 miles in 1:45 and paid a winning mutual of $19.20. Eggy earned $113,016 in winning what trainer Oscar White said would be her last race of the year. She won four of nine starts in 1970 and had three seconds.

Clement's Hirsch's June Darling, who fell heavily in the morning when frightened by a horse galloping past her, finished ninth and last.

At Aqueduct, Charles Englehard's Protanto charged from last to draw clear in the final sixteenth of a mile and post a length victory over Saul Nader's Judgable, with Hickory Tree Stable's Buzkashi third, in the $58,200 Roamer Handicap.

Protanto, ridden by Chuck Baltzar and carrying 115 pounds 10 less than Judgable, raced the 1 3/16 miles in 1:55 3/5 for a payoff of $8.60.

In another feature, Nathan L. Cohen's Mister Diz carried the favorite's role and high weight of 126 pounds, to victory in the $24,150 Constellation Handicap for Maryland-breds at Laurel, site of Wednesday's $150,000 Washington, D.C., International.

Mister Diz paid $5 after running a mile in 1:37.

In other national features, Levee Night, $6.60, won the $25,000-added Golden Rod Stakes at Churchill Downs; Fuel Queen, $44.20, scored in the $21,800 Thomas D. Nash Memorial Handicap at Sportsman's Park; Two Worlds, $14.50, took the $14,150 Junipero Serra Stakes at Bay Meadows, and Good Breeze, $5, won the $7,500 Bristol Handicap at Lincoln Downs.

Pronovost's first goal had balanced an early tally by Gordie Howe but then Don Luce and Garry Unger had moved the Wings in front. Ken Schinkel brought Pittsburgh back to within striking distance before Pronovost tied it.

Danny Grant's second goal of the game moved Minnesota into its tie with Chicago. Grant connected early in the third period—the only score of the final 20 minutes. He and Murray Oliver scored in the second while Stan Mikita, Bobby Hull and Dan Mahoney hit for Chicago.

Something Missing in NHL Playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There was something missing in Boston's run to the National Hockey League Stanley Cup last season. That something was the Montreal Canadiens, who missed the playoffs for the first time in 22 years last spring.

The Canadiens had eliminated the Bruins in two straight playoffs and Boston wanted revenge. Denied the chance in the playoffs, the Bruins had to bide their time until Sunday night when they met the Canadiens for the first time this season. For Boston, it was worth the wait.

The Bruins battered the Canadiens 6-1 and the game was spiced by a second-period brawl that emptied both benches and needed police intervention to finally stop it.

Elsewhere in the NHL Sunday, Philadelphia tripped Buffalo 3-1, Pittsburgh tied Detroit 3-3 and Minnesota and Chicago battled to a 3-3 tie.

In Saturday's games, Montreal wallowed Buffalo 11-2, Vancouver topped Toronto 3-2, New York defeated Los Angeles 6-2, Boston and Pittsburgh played to a 2-2 tie, Chicago tied Philadelphia 1-1 and St. Louis and Minnesota played to a 1-1 deadlock.

Smooth Phil Esposito, the NHL's leading scorer, hit a goal and assisted on two others as the Bruins exploded for 48 shots at goalies Rogatien Vachon and Phil Myre.

Esposito's first assist set up a short-handed goal by Ed Westfall in the first period—one of three the Bruins scored in the opening 20 minutes.

There was less than half a minute remaining in the first period when the brawl started with Boston's Ken Hodge and Claude Larose of the Canadiens touching it off.

It soon spread with both benches emptying and the fighting spilling over to the Montreal bench where Boston police had to restrain the Canadiens from going after fans. Six major penalties—three for each team—resulted from the fuss.

Defenseman Wayne Hillman set up Jimmy Johnson's tying goal in the last 1 1/2 minutes of the second period and then scored Philadelphia's winner 28 seconds into the third as the Flyers beat Buffalo.

Gil Perreault's early goal had provided the Sabres with a 1-0 edge which stood up until Hillman's goal-mouth feed set up Johnson. Bob Kelly gave the Flyers an insurance goal in the third period.

Jean Pronovost gave Pittsburgh its tie against Detroit when he scored his second goal of the night with just two minutes left to play.

Pronovost's dribbler slipped past goalie Roy Edwards at 17:57 of the third period climaxing a Penguin comeback after Detroit had moved out to a 3-1 lead.

Pronovost's first goal had balanced an early tally by Gordie Howe but then Don Luce and Garry Unger had moved the Wings in front. Ken Schinkel brought Pittsburgh back to within striking distance before Pronovost tied it.

Danny Grant's second goal of the game moved Minnesota into its tie with Chicago. Grant connected early in the third period—the only score of the final 20 minutes. He and Murray Oliver scored in the second while Stan Mikita, Bobby Hull and Dan Mahoney hit for Chicago.

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Ouachita Puts Blemish on Tech Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ouachita came up with a little extra effort Saturday and put the first blemish on Arkansas Tech's Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference record with a 14-12 victory over the Wonder Boys.

Only three times in the past 10 years has a team been able to make it through the AIC schedule with a perfect record. Tech was the last team to win all of its AIC games. The Wonder Boys went undefeated in 1964. Tech posted an 8-0 mark in 1960 and State College won the crown with a 7-0 record in 1962.

In other AIC action Saturday, Henderson defeated Harding 12-6, State College squeezed by Arkansas A&M 7-6, Millsaps defeated Southern State 21-2, and Grambling defeating Arkansas AM&N 41-13.

Henderson and SCA posted way back the top by facing minor opponents, Nino snapped: "I will never again fight back in the provinces. Not after those fights at the Madison Square Garden with 20,000 people there, not after fighting before television viewers.

"It would be too sad. I couldn't bear it."

Nino said that if he felt he wasn't up to fighting for the world championship again, he would end his ring career.

Monzon, victorious in his first crack at the title at the age of 28, and his manager say they'll be happy to face Nino again, although the contract for the fight Saturday contained no such provision.

But, said Tito Lactoure, Argentina's prime promoter: "There are other boxers who have priority over Benvenuti."

Some Believe Nino Could Be Through

By HILMI TOROS
ROME, Nov. 9 (AP) — Is Nino through?

That was the question the Italians posed this weekend as Nino Benvenuti, the pride and powerhouse of their country, succumbed to the thunderous right of Argentina's Carlos Monzon.

With that right hook—in the 12th round—the world middleweight boxing crown slipped away from Italy, also casting doubts on Benvenuti's future.

He is, after all, 32 years of age and no longer the speedster he was when he won the gold medal in the 1960 Rome Olympics.

After losing only two fights in the first eight years of his professional career, Benvenuti has now dropped three of his last seven decisions, two of them by knockouts.

But he is convinced he still is not over the hill — and he wants a rematch against the Argentine who engineered Nino's first defeat in his homeland.

"I still feel worthy to fight at the world level," he said after losing the title," adding that Monzon "must not deny me the chance for a rematch."

Knicks Have Some Hot Hands of Their Own

A National Basketball Association team scores 46 points in one period and it probably should win the game, right?

Wrong. The Portland Trail Blazers came out smoking with a 46-point fourth quarter, but wound up trailing the New York Knicks Sunday night.

Final: New York 125 Portland 113.

The Knicks actually had cooled off Portland with some hot hands of their own in Willis Reed, Walt Frazier and Cazzie Russell. They led by as many as

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — In "The Silent Force," ABC's new series, a three-man task force each week "cuts off another tentacle of the octopus of organized crime."

Because of a request from Washington, the octopus never has any label more specific than, say, "syndicate" or "organization."

But "The FBI," which is also on ABC, suffers no such restrictions despite the fact that it works closely with J. Edgar Hoover's Washington headquarters and has a technical consultant at the studio to make sure the agency's image is kept bright.

Sunday night's "FBI" episode, for instance, was a routine action story about a businessman in financial trouble turning to a loan shark for help. It was given an interesting twist by having the businessman and most of the villains black men. But what was most unusual in these days, it spoke right out about the "Mafia" and made frequent references to "La Cosa Nostra."

Television is very careful these days about its ethnic references. A few months ago, a commercial for a snack food was withdrawn and another version substituted after complaints by Mexican-Americans that the humor cartoon character, a snack-eating "bandito," was offensive.

Italian-American groups have been the most vociferous. They have protested strongly the linking of the Mafia with Italian-sounding names. There have also been protests from Polish-Americans.

Television handles this touchy problem in two ways. If the scripts make it necessary to have an oriental, a black or a Mexican heavy, there will be one or more good guys with the same ethnic background to balance things off. That was the way it was handled in the most recent "FBI" episode. The real hero was the black owner of the faltering business. The second method is to remove any suggestion of ethnic origin in the names of the villains. In that same story, the boss of the Cosa Nostra was called Alex Poland.

Television has always handled doctors with care, backstopping medical programs with consultants and script advisory committees. But over the years there have been plenty of complaints involving occupations. District attorneys once were upset because Hamilton Burger never won any cases when Perry Mason was his adversary. Last season there was some grumbling because of the attitude of a Southern-accented police character in an automobile commercial. He's back this season, still selling cars, but all the rough edges have been smoothed away.

Jim: "The easiest way to use Blackwood is to play that all four no-trump calls ask for aces. This is simple, but rather ineffective because there are occasions when four no-trump should be used as a strong bid in no-trump, not as an artificial asking bid."

Oswald: "Today's hand, played in an IMP team match shows a non-Blackwood four no-trump in action. Karen Allison of New York used one of the modern-modern bids when she responded two no-trump and continued to four after her partner merely took her to game. In her system, this bid showed the equivalent of a maximum strong no-trump, rather than the normal 13-15. With that normal 13-15 she would simply have let the hand play at three."

Jim: "I can see the heart lead gave her real problems. Not only was four no-trump in jeopardy, but if West happened to hold the club queen, then a club or no-trump slam would wheel in."

Oswald: "Karen decided the slam would be reached at the other table. Therefore, she decided to play on the assumption that the queen of clubs would be in the East hand. She let East hold the first heart and took the second one. Next came the play of the jack of clubs toward dummy. West played low and Karen went right up with dummy's king. When it held four no-trump was home. She abandoned clubs and went after spades. She was sure of three spade tricks and that, plus two hearts, four diamonds and a club, counted to 10."

Jim: "I understand that the slam was bid at the other table so Karen's team gained 12 IMPs that they would have lost if West held the queen of clubs."

Gout Is a Form of Arthritis

By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I would like to know what is gout and what are the symptoms and if there is any cure.

Dear Reader—Gout is often called the disease of kings because it has affected so many notable people in history. It is a form of arthritis. In some cases a joint suddenly becomes swollen, red, hot and painful. The big toe is the joint most often involved although other joints can be affected.

People with gout have an abnormality in the way their body manufactures proteins and how it handles the type of proteins found in fish, fowl and meat. A by-product of this process, called uric acid, is usually eliminated in the urine (hence the term uric acid, referring to an acid in the urine). When the uric acid accumulates in the body, in some people it forms into small crystals in the cartilage of a joint and this is related to the sudden onset of the sore, swollen joint. Usually the soreness subsides in a few weeks and then recurs.

In some cases the uric acid builds up slowly in the cartilage of joints. The joints eventually are destroyed and the foot, hand, elbow or knee is deformed.

Excess uric acid can cause kidney stones and kidney disease and many people who have gout develop heart disease.

Blood tests help to identify people who are likely to develop gouty arthritis, so ask your doctor to give you one if you suspect you have these symptoms.

Men are much more likely to have gouty arthritis than women. Only 5 per cent of the patients with arthritis of this type are women. The classic gout patient is a middle-aged, overweight man, with his painful foot resting on a footstool. When women have gout attacks they usually are older and the attacks are milder. There is an inherited tendency to gout and this tendency can be transmitted by women, even if they do not have attacks. Gout in children is rare.

The feet and ankles are the joints most often involved. In severe cases, the knees, hands, wrists and elbows may be affected. The spine, shoulders and hips almost never have gouty arthritis.

Blood tests for uric acid and a tendency for gout have revealed that men who are aggressive, intelligent and often leaders tend to have more uric acid than other people.

Soviet Space Program Closing Gap

By MICHAEL JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet space program appears to be making a strong recovery both in manned flight and space-robot missions after several years in the shadow of American triumphs.

Although the Russians lost the moon race, they have rebounded this year with their own moon-scooping machine and have just completed their fourth unmanned round-the-moon shot in the Zond series.

In addition, they have contributed to space medicine by testing man's endurance in a record orbital experiment lasting 18 days.

If public statements by cosmonauts and scientists can be taken at face value, more impressive feats with men and robots will be attempted in the near future.

Cosmonauts Vitaly Sevast'yanov and Andrian Nikolayev started the comeback in June when they set the duration record and concluded that the dangers of prolonged weightlessness still constitute a barrier to flights of more than a few weeks.

The Luna 16 mission three months later gave the Soviet Union its own samples of moon soil and also had the effect of restoring credibility to a space program which had not scored a major first between 1964 and 1970.

Then in October, Zond 8 zipped neatly around the moon on a photographic expedition and splashed down by remote control in the Indian Ocean, the fourth Soviet round trip to lunar space.

A new Venus probe, a refined version of earlier Venus capsules, was launched in August and is due to reach that scorching planet in mid-December. If it lands in operating condition Soviet space authorities can look back over a successful year.

Moving ahead on a separate front, newspapers and broadcasters have hailed the success of the unmanned moon-scooper as a cheaper, safer method of doing what the Apollo astronauts did. There has been no emphasis on the fact that Luna carried home 3½ ounces of moon soil compared with the 132 pounds collected in the Apollo 11 and 12 missions.

No Soviet moon landing is in preparation, according to frequent disclaimers in Moscow, but it is likely that more unmanned scoopers will seek more soil samples.

Any Soviet space planners embarrassed when Apollo 11 and 12 landed on the moon must feel somewhat vindicated now.

Iranian Plane Is Hijacked to Iraq

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — An Iranian airliner, hijacked with 22 persons on board, landed in Baghdad, Iraq, today, the Iraqi news agency reported.

Airport authorities there at first denied the twin-engine DC3 permission to land but relented after the plane's American pilot reported he was running out of gas.

The air taxi firm which chartered the plane said in Tehran, Iran, that the plane was not critically short of fuel. It claimed the aircraft was forced to land at Doha where it took on fuel, then left for Baghdad.

Iranian officials said the plane left Dubai on the Persian Gulf early today bound for Bandar Abbas in Iran.

The Iraqi news agency said the plane was hijacked by nine of the 22 persons on board. It was believed they were Iranians.

The pilot was identified as Sidney Jordan.

It was the third Iranian plane hijacked to neighboring Iraq in the past five months. Although relations between Iran and Iraq have been badly strained for several years, the Iraqi government returned both the previous planes and their passengers and crews.

Infiltration Stepped Up by Enemy

By FRED HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Vietnam has stepped up its troop infiltration southward so far this year but about 25 percent of its reinforcements apparently are being diverted to Cambodia, according to Pentagon sources.

U.S. military analysts studying infiltration figures for the first 10 months of 1970 estimate nearly 60,000 North Vietnamese soldiers have infiltrated South Vietnam and another 20,000 passed through southern Laos into Cambodia.

By comparison, about 67,000 North Vietnamese soldiers were estimated to have infiltrated in the first 10 months of 1969, all but about 1,500 into South Vietnam.

This suggests that the Cambodian front, opened last spring after the fall of Prince Norodom Sihanouk, has caused Hanoi to raise the ante in troops committed to the Indochina war, Pentagon sources said. However, the increase was hardly enough to cause North Vietnam any serious manpower strain, they added.

U.S. intelligence reports the North Vietnamese have gotten perhaps a month's head start in their annual late-year push to replenish their ranks for military operations during the season.

Infiltration totaled about 15,000 men in October and nearly 2,000 in the first several days of November, the sources said. Experts believe North Vietnamese infiltrators are carrying much more equipment with them.

This, it was said, apparently is because the allied attack on Cambodian base areas last spring and the severing of a major enemy supply route from the Gulf of Siam have prevented enemy reinforcements from drawing on stored supplies.

While U.S. officials claim intense American air strikes at key points in Laos have set back by some weeks the North Vietnamese major resupply effort this year, they say it is impossible to stem the movement of enemy troop reinforcements traveling in small groups.

Four Youths Held in a Murder

DEWITT, Ark. (AP) — Four DeWitt youths are being held in connection with the death of Jimmy Wayne Wampler, about 30, of Wynne near here Saturday night.

The four, ranging in ages from 14-16, were arrested at 1 a.m. Sunday after one of the boys called officials and told them where Wampler's body could be found.

Arkansas County officials said Wampler was found beaten and robbed on a county road near here. He had been shot in the head with a .16-gauge shotgun, police said.

He was enroute to a deer camp when the apparent murder occurred.

The four are being held in the Arkansas County jail.

Full Employment Is Not Likely

NEW YORK (AP) — Attaining full employment by 1972 is not likely without a resurgence of inflation, says Dr. Carl H. Madden, chief economist of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Madden said "the major task of responsible political leadership is to dispel the myth" that full employment without inflation is realistic in a period such as two years.

His comments were prepared for delivery before the National Electrical Manufacturers Association today.

By G. DAVID WALLACE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans cannot be certain of adequate health care because doctors and government officials tolerate the poor practice of medicine, says a Ralph Nader study group.

The report, written by a former federal health official with help from medical and law students, chronicles a long list of what it calls medical abuses: the failure of doctors to keep abreast of new developments, the "leaking" of poorly qualified foreign medical school graduates into the U.S. system, performance of unnecessary operations, prescription of unnecessary drugs and some simply shoddy practices.

The basis of the problem, according to the report, is the failure of doctors to review each other's work and to establish standards for the practice of medicine.

The Nader group was directed by Dr. Robert S. McCleery, a 57-year-old surgeon and former

Egypt Trying to Unite Arabs Again

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Egypt is planning to federate with Sudan and Libya to form "a nucleus for the unity of the Arab world" in northeast Africa. It is Cairo's second such attempt to put together a greater Arab nation.

The late President Gamal Abdel Nasser failed in the first attempt, a federation with Syria and Yemen that was formed in 1958. It existed mostly on paper, and was broken up by Syria in September 1961. Egypt's official name remains the United Arab Republic, a remnant of that try at union.

Nasser's successor, Anwar Sadat, President Jaafar el Numeiri of Sudan and Col. Muammar Kadafi, leader of Libya's military regime, announced plans for the new merger early today after a conference in Cairo.

No target date was given for putting the federation into operation.

"The Arab world is facing internal as well as external attempts to liquidate the revolutionary tide," it said, adding that the confederation was necessitated also by the death of Nasser, "whose mere presence in the Arab struggle (with Israel) was a sufficient symbol of unity for the Arab peoples."

Under the plan, called the Tripoli Charter in honor of a conference Nasser, Kadafi and Numeiri held there this year, a tripartite command will first consolidate the political systems in the countries and coordinate their policies, the communique said. The command will set up three-sided boards to govern the confederation later, including a "supreme planning committee," a national security council for defense, an implementation committee to maintain national progress and subcommittees to handle political, economic, military and social questions.

Observers noted that the boards will include representatives from all three nations and their decisions presumably will have to be unanimous. Thus there apparently was no loss of sovereignty envisioned by the drafters of the charter, but this also increases the possibility of the disagreements that always wreck attempts at Arab unity.

The confederation will bring together some of the world's most lucrative oil fields in Libya, potentially rich wheat fields in Sudan and the Arab world's most powerful military force, in Egypt.

As El Numeiri met in Cairo, his defense minister charged in Khartoum that Sudanese troops have found evidence of U.S. and Israeli intervention in the insurrection in Southern Sudan.

Death Penalty Issue Before High Court

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court heard a renewed plea today for major changes in the way the death sentence is imposed in the United States.

Lawyers for two condemned slayers argued that juries should be stripped of their "absolute discretion" to decide which guilty men should die and which should get jail terms.

The three-hour hearing was a replay of arguments before the court over the last two years that led to no decision. In the meantime, the number of men and women on death row has grown to more than 550—most of whom have a life-or-death interest in the outcome.

The two prisoners whose appeals are before the court are Dennis C. McGautha of Los Angeles and James E. Crampton of Toledo, Ohio. Crampton was convicted of killing his wife, McGautha's of killing a grocer.

McGautha's lawyer, Herman F. Selvin of Beverly Hills, Calif., argued California law provides no standards or guidelines for the jury to determine whether to impose the death penalty or a life sentence.

Crampton's lawyer, John J. Callahan of Toledo, argues similarly regarding death penalty jurors in Ohio.

Should the court agree, all but a handful of the current death sentences could be upset and state legislatures required to lay down specific guidelines for future juries.

The prisoners spared by such a ruling presumably would be resentenced.

Callahan also argued that the trial should be split up, as it is in California, Texas, Georgia, Connecticut, Pennsylvania and New York. This would allow a defendant to plead for mercy without waving his Fifth Amendment guarantee against self-incrimination.

In a single-stage trial, the lawyer said, a defendant who pleads for mercy appears to jurors to be confessing his guilt and is apt to be convicted. He also leaves himself open to cross-examination. If the defendant does not plead for mercy, Callahan said, he risks receiving the death penalty.

Arguing against any changes were the states of California and Ohio and, importantly, the U.S. government.

Ronald M. George, a deputy attorney general of California, said juries are specifically cautioned not to be arbitrary and are told to consider all evidence surrounding the crime as well as the defendant's background and history.

Melvin L. Resnick, an assistant prosecuting attorney of Lucas County, Ohio, said the absence of standards does not mean juries are irrational. He suggested the court is really being asked to eliminate the death penalty itself.

The government's argument was made by Solicitor General Erwin N. Griswold. Since the justices are believed to be closely divided, the government's decision to counsel against change may be vital.

Griswold, a former dean of the Harvard law school, said the nation is committed to trial by jury and to the assumption that juries act fairly, rationally and intelligently.

As for adopting two-stage trials, Griswold said defendants are always under tactical pressures as to whether or not to take the stand.

Guidelines for Education

WASHINGTON (AP) — Virginia Knauer, special assistant to President Nixon for consumer affairs, is distributing guidelines for consumer education to primary and secondary schools.

With announcement of the program, Mrs. Knauer said there exists a need to educate young consumers to cope with "a marketing world dominated by complex, sophisticated products."

Mechanical Not Cause of Crash

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mechanical failure apparently did not cause the plane crash that killed 31 persons, including 14 Wichita State University football players, the National Transportation Safety Board says.

Further analysis of the accident will have to be made before a probable cause is established, the board added. A report should be available in two or three weeks.

Mechanical failure was ruled out after testimony taken recently at a public hearing in Wichita, Kan.

Vietnamese Take Over Offensive

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese troops have taken over offensive operations from the Americans in an area of 100 square miles north of Saigon, authoritative sources disclosed today.

The major shift of allied responsibilities virtually ends the American offensive role along the Saigon River corridor, a long-time North Vietnamese-Viet Cong infiltration and supply route.

Four American artillery and patrol bases have been turned over to the South Vietnamese along a 50-mile stretch of the river, from the Cambodian border south to within 20 miles of Saigon.

South Vietnamese troops also are taking over Cu Chi, a giant base camp 20 miles northwest of Saigon that is the headquarters of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division. The division's headquarters and its 1st and 3rd Brigades are returning to Hawaii by Christmas.

Other American units at Cu Chi and Dau Tieng, an American brigade headquarters farther north, will be pulled out soon.

For the most part, sources said, the realignment leaves American forces in the western half of the 3rd Military Region defending their remaining bases and conducting such defensive operations as local reconnaissance, searching out enemy caches and protecting the current rice harvest.

The realignment is part of President Nixon's withdrawal program to reduce U.S. strength in Vietnam to 284,000 troops by next May 1.

The U.S. Command announced today that American forces in the country dropped another 6,000 men last week to 368,000. It was the lowest level since Dec. 10, 1966, when there were 367,400.

Meanwhile, the Cambodian military command reported that the largest combined South Vietnamese-Cambodian task force of the war pushed in behind tanks on a Communist base camp 20 miles south of Phnom Penh. A spokesman said one South Vietnamese tank was reported destroyed by a mine, but the 7,000-man force had made no significant contact with the enemy.

Four Inmates Escape From Prison Farm

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — Four inmates escaped from Cummins Prison Farm Sunday night.

Authorities identified them as Myrtle Skaggs, 20, Louise Loyd, 36, Eddie Lee Coughlin, 30, and Willie Earl Weams, 19. Prison officials said the four escaped separately.

Officials said Myrtle Skaggs was serving five years for burglary and grand larceny from Johnson County and Louise Loyd was serving 15 years for bank robbery from Pope County. Coughlin was serving 18 years for burglary and grand larceny from Craighead County and Weams was serving 21 years for assault with intent to kill from Jefferson County.

Red Ink in Budget to Be Nixon's Problem With New Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — The persistent and mounting red ink in the federal budget probably will be President Nixon's major problem in dealing with the new Congress next year.

It is a Congress that Tuesday's election changed only slightly—and not in a way to help him much in his fiscal dilemma.

Facing a deficit estimated by congressional specialists as high as $15 billion to $16 billion, the administration—if it remains true to its announced principles must make hard choices about cutting spending, increasing taxes or both.

At the same time, it is under heavier pressure to try new ways of boosting an economy that now registers a seven-year high in unemployment—while avoiding feeding persistent inflation.

There is widespread feeling the economy, harped on by Democrats, had more impact on the electorate Tuesday than the law and order arguments of the

Conviction of Murder Again Reversed

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court, for the third time, reversed a first-degree murder conviction in the slaying of a police officer at Hughes.

The high court, by 4-3 decision, reversed the conviction and death sentence of Dewey Ray Murray in St. Francis Circuit court, and ordered a new trial.

The high court previously had reversed the convictions of two other defendants, Franklin Bosnick and Franklin Bosnick Jr. Both Bosnicks were found guilty again on their retrials.

The charges were filed on Jan. 28, 1969 in the shooting on Dec. 31, 1968 of Jessie J. Morgan at Gattneys' Grocery Store on U.S. 79 south of Hughes.

Murray was convicted Sept. 3, 1969. His appeal said the verdict should be reversed because the trial judge, Elmo Taylor, refused to instruct the jury on second-degree murder and other degrees of homicide.

The majority opinion, written by Associate Justice Conley Byrd, said that the trial court should have given jury instructions on lesser degrees of homicide because Murray was not charged with murder during the commission of a felony.

While the charge against Murray did not specifically state that the count was felony murder, the state contended

Court Refuses to Hear War Legality Suit

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A divided Supreme Court refused today to hear a suit by Massachusetts questioning the legality of U.S. military action in Vietnam.

Six justices voted against the state and three justices dissented. Only Justice William O. Douglas, one of the dissenters, set forth his views.

Massachusetts had argued that without a declaration of war the President has no authority to send American troops into combat in Southeast Asia.

The Nixon administration counseled the court against granting the state a hearing. Justice Department officials said a judicial inquiry into the legality of the war would hamstring the President, insult Congress and embarrass the nation.

Voting against a hearing were Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justice Harry A. Blackmun, both of whom were put on the court by President Nixon and Justices Hugo L. Black, William J. Brennan Jr., Byron R. White and Thurgood Marshall, holdovers from past administrations.

Dissenting with Douglas were Justices John M. Harlan and Potter Stewart.

In the past the court has declined every time to hear suits questioning the war's legality. At first, only Douglas dissented. Subsequently, he was joined by Stewart. Today, the dissenters picked up Harlan.

Massachusetts thus fell one vote short of winning a hearing. Under court rules four justices must acquiesce before a case can be heard.

Four Persons Killed on Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Four persons were killed on Arkansas' highways during the weekend.

Two of the victims died late Sunday afternoon in a car-truck crash on Arkansas 21 about three miles south of Berryville.

State Police said a one-ton truck driven by Richard Blackston, 26, of Green Forest collided head on during a rainstorm with a car driven by Danny Webb, 18, of Huntsville. Both men were killed instantly.

Bobby Joe Turner, 21, of Little Rock died Saturday night when his stalled car was hit by another vehicle. The accident occurred inside the Little Rock city limits.

Harry Quimby, 24, of Crossett was killed Saturday night in a one-car accident in Crossett. Police said Quimby was a passenger in a car driven by Donald Curtis, 21, of near Crossett that went out of control and struck a tree.

Repression Trend Seen in Colleges

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A report by a committee of the Arkansas Chapter of the American Association of University Professors says that Arkansas colleges are facing a trend toward "repression" due to provincialism.

The report, completed by the association's Committee on Tenure and Academic Freedom, blamed the repression on "the general anti-intellectual tone of the state" and on college administrators who treat faculty members as "hired hands."

The report said "the orthodoxy springing from a population and its leadership, largely homogenous in composition and thus encouraging conformity, and a stifling provincialism that appears at times to delight in thumbing its nose at outsiders, are certainly among the reasons for finding Arkansas institutions so frequently on the conservative side."

Thinks Amelia Earhart Is Alive In U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — Two former Air Force officers said today a 10-year investigation strongly indicates that Amelia Earhart, who disappeared with her plane over the Pacific in 1937, is alive and living in the United States.

Lt. Col. Joe Klaas and Maj. Joseph Gervais said in a news release they believe a woman calling herself Mrs. Guy Bolam, and claiming to have flown with Miss Earhart, actually is the famed aviatrix herself. They base their belief largely on physical resemblance and Mrs. Bolam's secrecy about her past.

They said their research indicates that Miss Earhart and her navigator, Fred Noonan, were intercepted near Hull Island in the Phoenix group on July 2, 1937, by planes from a Japanese carrier, and that she held captive in the Imperial Palace in Tokyo throughout World War II.

Klaas said he believes that Emperor Hirohito bartered Miss Earhart's life and "the secrets she knew, which could be embarrassing to the U.S. government," for his own freedom from trial as a war criminal.

The two officers expounded their theory in connection with Klaas' book, "Amelia Earhart Lives: A Trip Through Intrigue to Find America's First Lady of Mystery." The book is published by the McGraw-Hill Book Co.

Gervais, a former bomber and transport pilot and accident investigator for the Air Force, said he first met "Mrs. Bolam" at a Long Island meeting of the Early Fliers of America in 1965, and had located her at various times in various places, including Bedford, N.Y.; Newark, N.J.; Princeton, N.J., and Raleigh, N.C.

A McGraw-Hill spokesman said Mrs. Bolam has given an address at Jamesburg, N.J., and the two officers have written to her inviting her to appear at a Los Angeles meeting Nov. 18, when more details of their findings will be disclosed.

He said she looks very much the way he thinks Miss Earhart would look at the age of 72. He said she denied that she is Miss Earhart and "steadfastly refused to answer questions about her background, birth, schooling or her career in aviation."

Medical Group Studies 4 Items

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Medical Society will consider four items that may be included in the 1971 state legislature during a meeting here Nov. 22.

The four items are: the establishment of a physician-assistant program in rural Arkansas; a joint report of the society's Committee on Traffic Safety and Aging; a motion supporting the placement of the state's tuberculosis control programs under the auspices of the state Health Department and drug abuse education programs.

Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., will address the luncheon meeting at the Coachman's Inn.

Nixon, Agnew Raised Morale and Money

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite scattered successes, there is little evidence the strenuous campaign efforts of President Nixon and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew did more than raise money and morale for the GOP in last week's elections.

They even may have caused damage, driving dissident Democrats back into party ranks this year and creating bitterness in the moderate wing of the GOP likely to take the form of cries for Agnew's replacement on the 1972 ticket.

Only 18 of the 52 Senate and governor candidates for whom Nixon and Agnew campaigned in 38 states were elected last Tuesday.

Many of those who won probably would have been elected without any help from Nixon or Agnew. In addition, a dozen Republican governors aided by one or the other were thrown out of office.

Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, Ronald Reagan of California, William G. Milliken of Michigan and Francis W. Sargent of Massachusetts were re-elected generally on their own.

Of these, the only state in which Nixon and Agnew actually campaigned was California. Although Reagan won a second term, by a reduced margin, the major object of the Nixon-Agnew push, Sen. George Murphy, was trounced by Democrat John V. Tunney, and Republicans lost the legislature.

Many Democratic leaders feel the aggressive GOP "law and order" push, and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie's election eve television appearance to answer GOP charges, did more to unify the Democratic party than anything in the past two years.

In two states, Connecticut and Tennessee, where both Nixon and Agnew appeared, the Republicans captured both the governorship and a Senate seat from the Democrats.

However, the disintegration of Connecticut party organization, a divisive Senate primary, Sen. Thomas J. Dodd's disruptive independent candidacy and a weak gubernatorial campaign presaged Democratic defeat before Nixon and Agnew ever campaigned there.

And in Tennessee, increasingly Republican in recent years, a business scandal revolving around the Democratic gubernatorial nominee and the rising opposition to Sen. Albert Gore evidenced by his weak primary showing were significant forerunners of the GOP victory.

In Maryland, Republican J. Glenn Beall Jr.'s victory over Sen. Joseph D. Tydings was mainly due to antagonism to the senator, and, in Ohio, Republican Robert Taft Jr.'s win in the face of a Democratic gubernatorial triumph is credited largely to his famous family name.

Only in New York, where Nixon and Agnew never really campaigned directly, can the Republican leaders claim success.

Their efforts to undercut Republican Sen. Charles E. Goodell because of his anti-Nixon votes on key issues had the intended double effect of making it respectable for Republicans to support Conservative nominee James Buckley while driving some liberals to Goodell from Democrat Richard Ottinger.

Despite the short-range success in New York, Nixon and Agnew probably have bought themselves a peck of long-range trouble. The resentment stirred by Nixon's and Agnew's efforts among liberal Republicans in New York is likely to carry over into 1972 in a state where a sharply divided and leaderless Democratic party went for Hubert H. Humphrey in 1964 over Nixon.

So much for the successes.

In state after state, where the national administration had recruited GOP candidates, campaigned strenuously for them and provided heavy financing, Republicans were unsuccessful in efforts to dislodge Democratic senators. And a number of House seats vacated by GOP senate candidates were won by Democrats.

In North Dakota, Nevada, Wyoming and Utah, where Nixon and Agnew recruited GOP contenders, Democratic Sens. Quentin Burdick, Howard M. Cannon, Gale McGee and Frank E. Moss equaled or bettered their 1964 winning percentages. The congressional seats held by the GOP Senate candidates in

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset

North Dakota, Wyoming and Utah went Democratic.

Agnew appeared at least once in each of the states, and Nixon campaigned in all but Wyoming.

In Texas, where Republican optimism was evident during a two-stop swing by the President six days before the election, Democrats held the governorship and a Senate seat by comfortable margins.

Elsewhere in the South, the Nixon-Agnew effort proved futile.

In Florida, where the two made six appearances between them in an effort to put the GOP back together after a bitter primary, Democrats swept the key races.

In North Carolina, where both campaigned in an effort to aid the GOP's fight to gain congressional and legislative seats, Democrats kept their House majority, added to their strength in the legislature.

In South Carolina, Georgia and Arkansas, Democrats won governors contests despite Agnew campaign appearances.

In New York and Massachusetts, GOP Govs. Rockefeller and Sargent made it clear earlier in the campaign they did not want any help from Agnew.

In Ohio, Taft asked for an appearance by Nixon and got it, while making clear he didn't think Agnew would help. The vice president stayed out.

In Minnesota, where Nixon repaid a political debt to GOP senate nominee Clark Macgregor with a late-in-the campaign speech, Republicans passed the word they didn't want Agnew, who earlier in the year had helped them raise $1 million.

Laser Beams May Change Way of Life

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Two engineer scientists say small devices emitting potent laser beams promise vast changes in man's way of life.

Working at Southern Methodist University, they disclosed Sunday that four or five such devices have been put together at a cost of only $40 apiece.

These lasers are smaller than

half a dime—so little they could be dropped into a thimble.

Dr. Jerome K. Butler and Dr. Kenneth L. Ashley said the devices soon can be applied to aircraft and anticollision systems, radar, home security and possibly motion pictures and television.

A laser produces a beam of incisive, penetrating light by amplifying and concentrating the light waves.

An electric current flowing through this material, which is put at the tip of a wire, excites the material and the beam is emitted.
